ELECTRONIC DUO · SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA

Electronic music. Human longing. A cosmic search for connection.

BIO

Starmageddon is the San Francisco Bay Area electronic duo of Ralph Hertelendy and Flynn Gleason. Combining Ralph's background in trance and house DJing with Flynn's industrial roots, their sound connects intricate production, cinematic atmosphere, and compelling melodies with dance-floor energy. Filtered disco grooves in the Daft Punk tradition paired with the emotional weight of Röyksopp, they call their unique style "Sophisti-tronica." Following a creative partnership that began in 2003, the longtime friends are preparing their debut release, introducing this next chapter through "Follow Me" and "Just You."

RECOGNITION

Before Starmageddon, Ralph Hertelendy and Flynn Gleason recorded together as The Untouchablez. Their track "Spiritual Conception" won the Propellerheads "Prop Idol" International Music Competition in the United Kingdom, an early milestone in a partnership now spanning more than two decades.

THE STORY

Starmageddon began with a friendship and a shared fascination with where electronic music could go. Their early collaborations explored progressive arrangements and atmospheric textures, building immersive electronic worlds. Life eventually pulled them in different directions; the music paused, but the friendship endured.

After a long hiatus they reunited with a renewed ambition: music with immediate emotional connection that preserves the complexity and adventurous spirit of their earliest work. The name evokes a supernova — a fitting image for a creative partnership finding new life.
